Sri Lanka scores very high in all categories. And when we found Bevis Bawa's garden called Brief (his father and brother, Geoffery were lawyers) and the documents they produced were "Briefs" Bevis was a writer, artist and gardener and his "Brief" is his garden. Every part of the garden is so cleverly designed, so deliberate, so carefully thought out; every view designed in such a way as to miss nothing.

Bawa - The Sri Lanka Gardens - Reckless Gardener

Steps up to the Western Terraces: 'The garden had grown gradually into a place of many moods, the result of many imaginings' (Geoffrey Bawa, 1990) The effects of sibling rivalry on the life of an individual can be positive or negative, occasionally both. But there can rarely have been such benefits for both modernist architecture and the art of garden design as in the case of Geoffrey Bawa (1919-2003), the younger of two half-Sri Lankan brothers.

About Us. No place reveals the soul of Geoffrey Bawa, the acclaimed Sri Lankan architect, better than his country home, Lunuganga. When Bawa purchased the site in 1948, it was nothing more than a derelict rubber estate sitting on a promontory in the Dedduwa Lake, 2km inland from the Bentota coast. But over the next fifty years, he painstakingly transformed it into one of the most seductive, passionate pleasure gardens of the twentieth century.

The Bawa Brief Garden Sri Lanka - My Sri Lanka

In this stunning tropical landscape, near the southern coastal town of Bentota, the brothers Geoffrey and Bevis Bawa carved out the two gardens that have become their legacies. Sri Lanka's is a diverse culture, home to Veddas, Tamils, Burghers, and Moors, known locally as Muslims. The Bawa family was connected to the wealthy, elite Burgher society, whose ancestry can be traced to 17th-century Europeans who settled in Ceylon (as the island was called before 1972).

The Tropical Garden Reinvented | Garden Design

Started in 1947, the garden led Bawa, a lawyer called to the Bar at the Inner Temple in 1940, to decide to become an architect. As he went on to become Sri Lanka's and one of Asia's most prolific and influential architects, the garden at the Lunuganga estate remained his first muse and experimental laboratory for new ideas.
