According to an article in Bloomberg Businessweek, New York City's most recent adult smoking rate is 14%. Suppose that a survey is conducted to determine this year ' s rate. Nine out of 70 randomly chosen N.Y. City residents reply that they smoke. Conduct a hypothesis test to determine if the rate is still 14% or if it has decreased.

The book concerns the ways in which the new media shape communication along with educational expectations and practices in foreign language classrooms. Although foreign language learners have cheap and easy access to information and ways of communication, they also wrestle with problems that have always accompanied language learning. The focus of the book is two-fold. On the one hand, the authors demonstrate how using social networks, videoconferencing, mobile phones, wikis, and computer-mediated interaction contributes to the development of language skills, negotiated interaction, autonomy, and intercultural competence. On the other, they discuss “ old ” issues pertaining to the role of vocabulary, corrective feedback, textbooks and inner speech in the process of language learning and use. Every chapter reports original empirical research on issues related to the new media and old problems in foreign language teaching contexts in various countries, and with respect to various age groups.

The Workbook offers plenty of extra practice, revision, and reviews. Mirroring the Student's Book content, with the same clear structure, it provides extra reading and writing practice opportunities for both weaker and stronger students. The Writing Bank at the back of the book gives a quick guide to text types, with model structures and key language as well as exam strategies, plus a Functions Bank for functional phrases for speaking and writing. There is plenty of exam practice in the Get Ready for your Exam sections and these, along with the Self-Check pages after each unit and the review sections at the back of the books, allow students and their teachers to keep track of their progress as they work towards their exams. The accompanying Audio CD offers students a huge amount of listening practice. There are audio recordings for tasks in every lesson (not only for the Vocabulary & Listening lessons).
