Behind the Polaroid SX?70

Picture this: at the Polaroid company meeting in 1972, founder Edwin Land stepped onto the stage, pulled a camera out of his jacket pocket, and took five instant photos in just ten seconds. That camera was the Polaroid SX-70, and it was the camera that made truly instant photography possible for the first time ever.

The SX-70 is a folding single lens reflex Land Camera first produced by the Polaroid Corporation in 1972. It was the first instant SLR in history, and the first camera to use Polaroid's new integral print film, which developed automatically without the need for intervention from the photographer.

I have for sale one of my SX-70 Polaroid cameras. I've enjoyed using these camera's for a few years now but I have to many to keep. This one has been recently re skinned in real wood veneer and tested with film.

Everything appears to be functioning as it should, please see a recent photo taken with this camera. It's in good, clean condition for its age but given its age please expect some marks.
