"Because I am essentially the only person working on each issue, the production of Esopus has been an intensely personal exercise. For these drawings, I've worked mostly from photographs depicting Esopus events, artists' projects from particular issues, behind-the-scenes glimpses of the printing and editorial process, and other instances related to the production of the publication. Each drawing took between two and five days to complete. Over the course of that time, I found myself becoming immersed in--and reliving on some level--a very specific moment in the history of Esopus."--Tod Lippy.

In 1966 a group of students, Boy Scouts, and local citizens rediscovered all that remained of a then virtually unknown community called Weeksville: four frame houses on Hunterfly Road. The infrastructure and vibrant history of Weeksville, an African American community that had become one of the largest free black communities in nineteenth century United States, were virtually wiped out by Brooklyn's exploding population and expanding urban grid. Weeksville was founded by African American entrepreneurs after slavery ended in New York State in 1827. Located in eastern Brooklyn, Weeksville provided a space of physical safety, economic prosperity, education, and even political power for its black population, who organized churches, a school, orphan asylum, home for the aged, newspapers, and the national African Civilization Society. Notable residents of Weeksville, such as journalist and educator Junius P. Morell, participated in every major national effort for African American rights, including the Civil War. In Brooklyn's Promised Land, Judith Wellman not only tells the important narrative of Weeksville's growth, disappearance, and eventual rediscovery, but also highlights the stories of the people who created this community. Drawing on maps, newspapers, census records, photographs, and the material culture of buildings and artifacts, Wellman reconstructs the social history and national significance of this extraordinary place. Through the lens of this local community, Brooklyn's Promised Land highlights themes still relevant to African Americans across the country.

Narratives are fundamental to our lives: we dream, plan, complain, endorse, entertain, teach, learn, and reminisce through telling stories. They provide hopes, enhance or mitigate disappointments, challenge or support moral order and test out theories of the world at both personal and communal levels. It is because of this deep embedding of narrative in everyday life that its study has become a wide research field including disciplines as diverse as linguistics, literary theory, folklore, clinical psychology, cognitive and developmental psychology, anthropology, sociology, and history. In Telling Stories leading scholars illustrate how narratives build bridges among language, identity, interaction, society, and culture; and they investigate various settings such as therapeutic and medical encounters, educational environments, politics, media, marketing, and public relations. They analyze a variety of topics from the narrative construction of self and identity to the telling of stories in different media and the roles that small and big life stories play in everyday social interactions and institutions. These new reflections on the theory and analysis of narrative offer the latest tools to researchers in the fields of discourse analysis and sociolinguistics.

THE EVILS OF 9-11 REVISITED 10 years ago, on the brilliantly sunny morning of Sept. 11, 2001 mass murderers the sickest and most evil psychopaths among the human race unleashed a reign of terror that would ultimately kill nearly 3,000 innocent citizens. As Americans watched these horrors unfold on their television sets, they were subjected to an occult, magical rite that would severely traumatize them and forever transform our nation. As sirens wailed, fires burned, people screamed and television newsmen riddled their viewers with alarm, those who orchestrated this sacrificial slaughter reveled in the paranoia and carnage. As blame for these attacks was quickly placed on Osama bin Laden and 19 Muslim hijackers, the actual plotters Talmudic exterminators and their neo-con political sycophants peered from the shadows as horrified jumpers leaped to their deaths from the World Trade Center towers and splattered on New York City's streets. Shortly thereafter, these two 110-story skyscrapers were swallowed directly into the Earth by energy sources as powerful as the Sun. Ground Zero, in its original interpretation as the spot of a nuclear explosion, had been born. The monstrous aberrations responsible for these crimes against humanity mutilated and desecrated our security. Certainly 9-11 was an inside job, but it was also an outside job as well. The ravenous dogs that assaulted USS Liberty crewmembers in 1967 now unleashed without a trace of conscience their cesspool of bloodlust on America's own homeland. On that fateful morning, pandemonium ran rampant through every neighborhood. People wondered rightly so if WW III had begun? After the Pentagon our military nerve center was purportedly rendered ineffective against this onslaught, what target would be next? Television sets cast incantations and demented spells over every viewer that sat transfixed, frozen with fright. In a state of primal fear, these cabbalistic sorcerers and propagandists actually took possession of the victimized masses. At this precise moment, brainwashing, trauma programming and psychic driving would reach its height of effectiveness. More sirens, flames, controlled demolitions, hellish smoke, terror alerts on every channel and mounting death counts. The world had changed, and we could never return to where we once were. Like vermin-infected rodents carrying toxic poison in their DNA, the 9-11 architects created this Pearl Harbor grand illusion to lay a foundation for even more lies, i.e. wars in Afghanistan and Iraq where killing-field corpses would be stacked by the thousands. 9-11 Evil . . . 10 years ago the spiritually malignant blackness of this Made in Israel false-flag attack stole our family's lives and savaged our country's collective mindset. They are destroyers, vipers of an inhuman species, and we will never forget what they've done to us.
