Balboursa is a small city in Northern Lycia that was particularly active under the Roman Empire; visited and partially surveyed by travellers in the nineteenth century, it had never been studied in depth. A survey was proposed, and in 1985 a two-week preliminary investigation was made during the first half of September.

Balbura or Balbura (Ancient Greek: ????????) was a town of ancient Lycia, the site of which is at Çölkayı. The acropolis hill is about 90 metres above the plain of Katara, and the plain is 1,500 feet (460 m) above the level of the sea. The ruins occupy a considerable space on both sides of the stream.

Balboursa then, as now, was not terribly well-known, though the geographer Strabo (13.4.167 C631) writing in the late 1 st century BCE described it as once belonging to a tetrapolis along with Oinoanda, Bubon and Kibyra, also attesting four languages in the area: Pisidian, Greek, Solymian and Lydian. The reasons for conducting the survey, as well as the techniques used and the research questions addressed, have now been outlined in full by J.J. Coulton, the project director
